What Else You Need to Know About Me:

I am obsessed with fonts.

I am not afraid to admit it. I look forward to my monthly myfonts.com newsletter. I've spent full Saturdays drooling over the wonderful work at TypeEverything.com. And I've spent more money than I'd like to admit on fonts for which I didn't even have projects in mind. I am font addicted.

I am committed to personal development.

I am career-driven, but I am committed to continuously developing myself both personally and professionally. I have a business coach, a strange need to constantly meet new people, and open mind.

I love to learn new technology

I've been known to learn new technologies on a whim and I've been bitten by the technology bug. I looks forward to new gadgets and social media platforms.
